Red Wolf Mountain Link

October 2014

Hello Red Wolf Lodge at Squaw Valley Owners,

Summer was in full swing beginning with the Western States 100 mile Endurance Run, which kicked off right here in Squaw Valley. The runners climbed more than 18,000 feet and descended nearly 23,000 feet before finishing in Auburn, CA. Shortly thereafter was the Wanderlust Festival, which is an inspirational adventure combining yoga, music, nature and mindfulness.

The first day of the festival included a hail storm covering the hillsides with what looked like a winter snowstorm. Fortunately, the weather didn't dampen the spirits of the festival goers who seemed to enjoy the experience. Next up was the Ironman triathlon with a twist this year, offering both a half Ironman and a relay race. And as every year, the Bluesdays free Blues concert every Tuesday at High Camp and in the Village continues to be a main attraction.

Exciting news!

The new sleeper sofas are in all the units and look great. The sofas will look even better in combination with the new carpet scheduled to be installed over a three week period in October. Everyone has been very complimentary of the improvements throughout the resort over the past few years including the bedding, kitchenware, flat screen TV's, DVD players, carpet and now sofa sleepers.

Proposed Expansion of the Village at Squaw Valley

Your Board of Directors and Management encourages you to learn about the proposed development of approximately 100 acres of land within Squaw Valley, owned by Squaw Valley Holdings (previously know as KSL). You can learn more about the proposed project at www.squawrenaissance.com and by viewing the model which is located at Basecamp in Squaw Valley Village.

In the near future, you will receive a survey from Red Wolf Squaw Valley seeking your views about various aspects of the proposed project. Your opinions matter! We will provide a summary of feedback to both the developer and officials from Placer County reviewing the project.

Please keep a look out for the survey questions and be sure to let us know your thoughts!

Sincerely,

Greg Veal
General Manager
